The Caped Crusader™ to the Rescue!

It's not what it looks like. Not at all.

It wasn't Batman who released that vicious swarm of bats on the unsuspecting Ice Princess. (Though that's what a dastardly villain wants you to believe.) It was a fiendish plot to incriminate The Caped Crusader.

As a champion of goodness and justice in a city of trickery and treachery, Batman takes on the preposterous Penguin and his band of Red Triangle Circus performers. Plus you'll encounter flying gargoyles, acrobatic henchmen, various breeds of pyromaniacs and waaay more.

And last, but most certainly not least, you'll tangle with the mistress of felines herself, the curious, spurious, mysterious Catwoman. She's not exactly a friend of yours. Although she doesn't favor the Penguin either. So don't count on anything but trouble from her.
BATMAN RETURNS

and you won't be disappointed. Keep in mind that Catwoman has nine lives. And you can be sure she'll use every last one.

Now while we're on the subject of using things, you'll have quite an assortment of gadgets under your Batman belt. You'll have your infamously grappling hook that lets you scale towering heights in the time it would take you to bat an eye.

You'll also have your razor sharp, fling it with your wrist Batarang that'll stun just about any enemy you meet. Or use your Super-seeking Batarang to snuff out everyone on the screen.

Blast thugs, clowns, acrobats, flame-throwers and parachuting penguins out of town with your Grappling Gun. Stun unsuspecting criminals with your smoldering Smoke Bomb. Or unleash a swarm of bats on the Penguin's crusty cronies.

You start with a limited supply of weapons. But there's more hidden in and around Gotham City. So go ahead. Check behind that dark corner. Knock out that wall. You'll never know what's hidden there.

You are the last hope to the people of Gotham City. And they're counting on you. Desperately. Because if Batman can't clean up Gotham City, nobody can.

Getting Gotham City Back

How do you clean up a city that likes the dark, the dank, the muck? That thrives on the crime in the streets?

You do it at night. In the streets. In abandoned stores. In underground sewers. And you do it alone.

You may find help. But probably not.

And it's The Penguin and his powerhouse of costumed criminals against you.

You'll have to fight hard. And smart. You'll have to keep your energy up. And be on the lookout for more energy.

You'll have to choose your weapons carefully. And time each move perfectly. Or else...
Batman's Gadgets

What sets Batman apart from the other super heroes is that he's always had the best toys.

The Batmobile... Batarangs... The Batskiboat...

Maybe it's because he was once a rich kid. Maybe it's because he's Bruce Wayne. But whatever the reason, there are now more great toys (or, if you prefer, weapons) than ever.

Here's what you've got and how they work:

UTILITY BELT POWER-UPS

You start the game with at least one of each weapon under your belt. As you move through Gotham City, you can collect more of each weapon along the way.

Your Utility Belt can carry up to 99 of each weapon. So pick up all the power-ups you can find. You'll have plenty of room to store them. And, as you know, you can never, ever have too many power-ups!!

Here's what you get when you start the game:

- 10 regular Batarangs
- 3 smoke bombs
- 1 harpoon gun
- 1 grappling gun
- 1 super-seeking Batarang
- 10 Batarangs
- 3 smoke bombs
- 1 harpoon gun
- 1 grappling gun
- 1 super-seeking Batarang

Batarangs

Fling 'em fast and hard. It's amazing the damage this innocent-looking little blade can do. Be sure to grab up every Batarang power-up because each one gives you 10 or even 20 Batarangs at once.

Smoke Bombs

These explosives can really put the heat on someone - if you toss them right. Rush up and pound your enemy while the smoke is still in his or her eyes.

Swarm of Bats

No fancy marksmanship needed here. Just release these little critters and watch what happens when they fly in the face of danger.

Grappling Gun

Call it a harpoon. Call it a dart gun. Call it whatever you like. Because when you hit one of those clowns with this, they call it quits.

Super-Seeking Batarang

This shining gem can track down enemies anywhere on the screen - no matter which direction you throw it. And once it tracks them down, it takes them out.
GRAPPLING HOOK

To reach places too high to jump to, or where no foothold is available—use Batman's grappling hook. Fling the hook towards a ledge or opening to let it "catch." Then let the line pull you up.

You can also use the grappling hook to swing from place to place to avoid danger below.

To use your grappling hook, hold the D-Button UP and press the JUMP BUTTON to release the line. If the line catches, tap the JUMP BUTTON again to jump onto the next surface. Or hold the JUMP BUTTON down to slowly move up the line.

To swing from your grappling hook, hold the D-Button UP and press the JUMP BUTTON to hook the grapple. If it hooks, press the D-button RIGHT and/or LEFT to swing back and forth or to swing from place to place.

WINGS

You can spread your wings and glide in midair by flapping your cape. Your wings are particularly useful when trying to collect power-ups that are in out-of-the-way places. And they help you avoid damage in dangerous places—like spiked surfaces.

You start the game with a certain amount of flight power. Each time you glide, you use a little up. You can get more flight power by collecting Batman's cape power-ups.

To flap your wings, hold down the SPECIAL WEAPONS BUTTON when jumping or falling through the air.

BATMAN'S BOOTS

The soles of your boots are invincible to fire, electricity, bullets, bombs and other deadly elements. The trick is to kick to shield yourself.
Batman's Lives

You may not have as many lives as Catwoman. But you can start with up to 7 lives. And you can extend your life meter and number of lives along the way by picking up hearts, pulsing hearts and Batman masks.

- Regular hearts give you 4 units of life energy.
- Pulsing hearts restore your life energy meter to full.
- Batman masks give you an additional life.

START A LIFE

You start the game with 3, 5 or 7 lives depending on your options setting. (See PLAYERS, page 8.) Each time your life energy runs out, you lose a life. When you lose all your lives you have the option to start over or to continue.

CONTINUE

If you chose to CONTINUE you will start at the beginning of the act (not the level) in which you were last playing. When you start this act over, your life energy and number of lives will be restored to their original amounts. You will also start with a new set of weapons under your belt.

GAME OVER

At the end of the game you battle The Penguin on his own home turf. He's sure that he has the advantage. Prove that he's wrong.

Each time you start a new level, your life energy is restored to its full capacity.
On the Level

There are five unique acts to play through. Each act is made up of three to four levels. Plus there is an opening and ending sequence as well as a couple of hidden bonus levels.

At the end of each level you must defeat the boss—who may surprise you. At the end of each act you'll contend with the portly Penguin himself.

Here's a hint of what you'll find in each act:

ACT I: GOTHAM CITY
Scale the skyscrapers on your ascent toward the rooftops. Once there, dodge the Gargoyle's fireballs and defeat thug acrobats. Then take the secret passage through the remains of an abandoned building on 22nd Street—but don't get sucked in!

ACT II: SHRECK'S WONDERLAND
Looks like Catwoman's been here. It must have been a "fire sale." Don't get "rolled over" by the merchandise. It could cost you your life!

ACT III: THE RED TRIANGLE CIRCUS
If you can't join the circus, beat 'em. You'll start at the animal cages and progress to the house of mirrors. Then catch the last train out of town.
BATMAN RETURNS

ACT IV: INTO THE SEWERS
Go with the flow here. (Unless you're headed for sawed-off water pipes.) And beware of The Penguin's Water Cannon.

ACT V: THE PENGUIN'S LAIR
Save some flight power for this place. Because you'll really need to glide. Defeat The Penguin now. And give Gotham City back to the people.

Hints and Tips

- If you can, put off picking up the health power-ups (hearts) until your life energy meter is below half. This way these power-ups are more valuable to you.

- Use the swarms of bats, grappling gun and Super Batarangs sparingly. Save them for the level bosses. Regular Batarangs and smoke bombs are enough for most enemies.

- Here's how to achieve wider swings once you've attached your grappling line to a surface:
  1. Keep the JUMP BUTTON pressed down.
  2. Wait for Batman to stop swinging.
  3. Lengthen the grapple line by pressing down on the D-Pad.
  4. Start swinging by pressing left and right repeatedly on the D-pad.

- Your glider wings will help you reach hard-to-get places.

- You never know where you'll find power-ups. Try punching out a wall and see what happens...
BATMAN RETURNS

- Learn where the power-ups and level bosses are so you can take the most direct route. That way you won't have to battle each and every enemy.

- Be Patient. Don't rush an encounter or hurry through a level. You have all the time you want because you're not clocked.

- Use regular Batarangs instead of other weapons whenever you can because there's an ample supply of Batarang power-ups throughout Gotham City.

- To conserve your weapons, use your fists against lower-level enemies and even against level bosses whose health points are down to three or less.

- Power-ups are hidden in both obvious and unlikely places. Be sure to search for them whenever you have the chance.

- Don't go head-to-head against the level bosses. Be evasive.

- Use your grappling line or special cape to help you get those out-of-the-way power-ups.
